DEDICATION

Progress is more than the mere passage of time; it is the moving forward of mind and spirit. Progress is what goes on inside man—and manifests itself in his achievements. Progress is advancement in general; it is growth, development, and continuous improvement.

The past twenty-five years has seen the evolution of a new world. Columbus has witnessed, and its graduates have been affected by, the progress in space exploration, medicine, and communication. Radio, television, and newspaper have become essential tools which bind our nation together. In 1939, radio was a household word; today Telstar is. In the 1940's, penicillin was purified, the 1950's witnessed the development of open heart surgery, and the 1960's have pioneered the beginning of space medicine. Space exploration is a child of the 1960's. Project Mercury, which began in 1961 with Alan Shepard's Suborbital flight, terminated last year with Leroy Cooper's two day flight in space.

Much rapid growth has been seen during the past twenty-five years, but it appears that the morality of the people did not progress as rapidly as did science; for the ideal which President Wilson hoped to achieve, a world safe for democracy, has not yet become a reality. While a preventive for Polio was found, the diseases of poverty and prejudice were not cured; during this quarter century of growth, a Second World War occurred, and nuclear weapons, capable of destroying the world, were invented.

These years were not trouble-free, and the world is not yet a Utopia, but we have much to be proud of. As President Kennedy said:

> The last generation has seen a . . . spectacular quickening of . . . pace . . . Twenty-five years ago the nation would have been unbelieving at the progress to be made . . . progress in education, in employment, in the evenhanded administration of justice . . . in the assumption of places of responsibility and leadership, in public and private life. It has been a striking change . . .

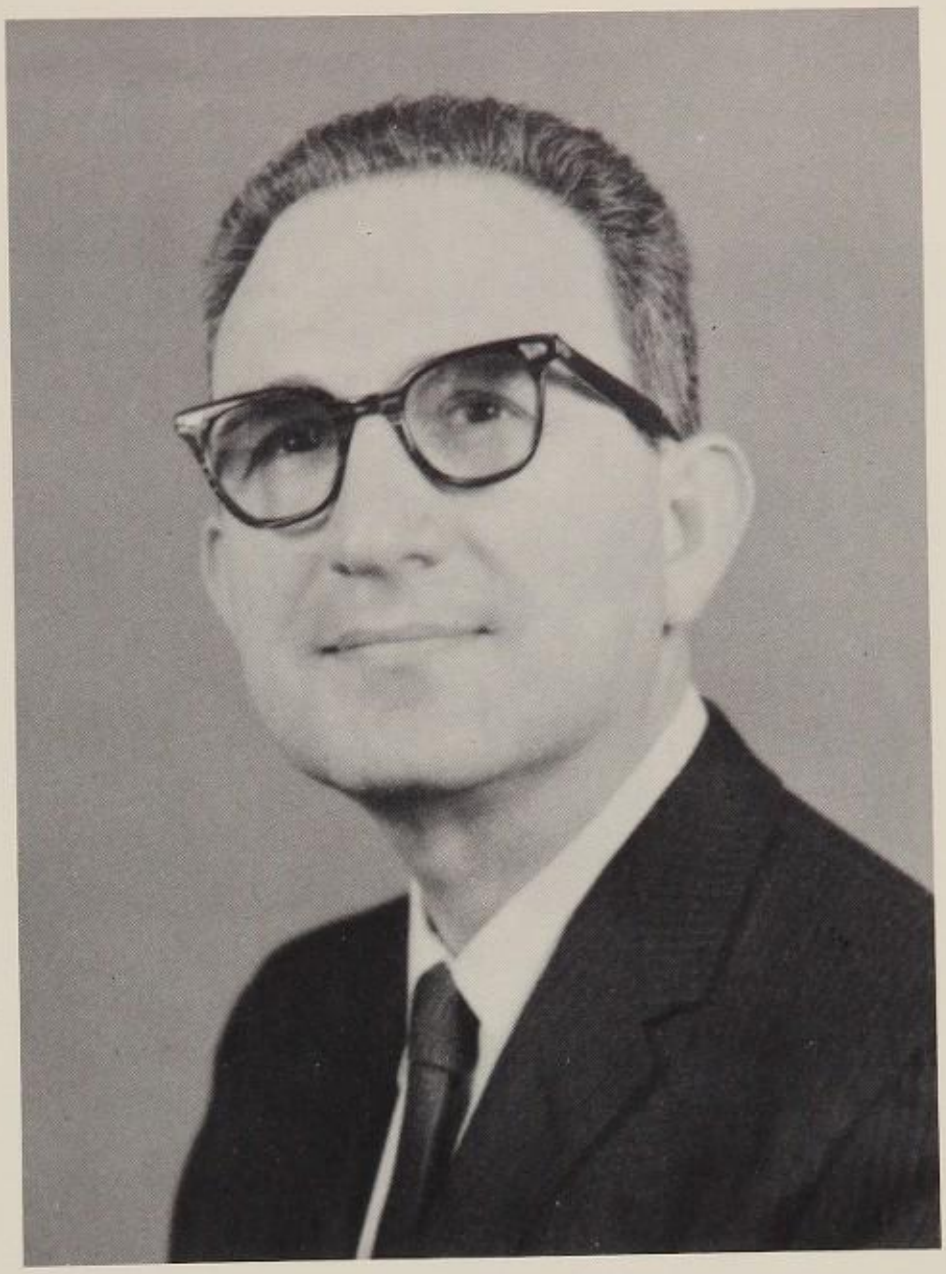
We, the graduates of 1964 are surrounded by institutions that have grown for a quarter century. Much of the progress at Columbus can be attributed to its administrators. Mr. J. Loughran, our first principal, set the tone of Columbus. Because he wanted to appeal to a vast cross section of students, Mr. Loughran set up a vocational curriculum alongside an academic one. Mr. M. Wilson, our second principal, set up advanced courses in Chemistry and History, and he fostered sports mindedness at Columbus. Mr. Kolevzon has stressed high scholastic achievement, and has recently instituted Advanced Placement courses in History and English.

Since our modest beginnings in 1939, every department has grown in scope, both in the curriculum it offers, and in the special events it sponsors. Advanced courses: Accounting, Painting, World Literature, Leaders Gym, Twelfth Year Math, Band, and Dramatics are offered by our departments. Our publications, the Admiral and Horizon win top Columbia Press Contest awards regularly, our academic clubs are active, and our sports teams are well known.

During the past quarter century the progress made by our nation has been accompanied by the growth of our school. Would it be unreasonable to believe that Columbus has had a small share in stimulating that progress?

We dedicate the Senior Year Book of nineteen hundred and sixty-four to Christopher Columbus High School's twenty-five years of progress, to twenty-five years of national achievement, and to the challenge of goals yet unfulfilled.

ROBERT S. MARSEL



PRINCIPAL'S MESSAGE

If man had been satisfied with the power of the windmill, the electric motor would still have been undiscovered. If scientists had been content with the energy of the gasoline engine, then the astronauts, now rocket-propelled into outer space, would still have remained earthbound. Similarly, if from now on you believe that a high school diploma completes your education for all time, then you automatically shut the door to future opportunities. One of the important lessons of life is that new goals must be established as old ones are achieved. All of this helps to explain man's continuous progress from the dawn of civilization to contemporary times.

True as all this may be, never allow the appeal of unattained goals to dull the satisfactions that should be derived from objectives already achieved. Never establish unrealistic goals or else successive frustrations may dull your eagerness to undertake new ventures.

This then is my message to you, the members of the graduating class of 1964.

"No goal is ultimate. Each attained objective becomes penultimate."

EDWARD R. KOLEVZON
Principal

Nothing in life is static. The very process of living involves change. The human organism is never the same from one day to the next. As you proceed through life, you will find that, even though today seems much like yesterday, and tomorrow not too different from today, certain subtle changes have been taking place in you and in your environment. Five, ten, twenty years from now will find you a different person from what you are today. And yet, it is only the action (or lack of action) you take today—during this twenty-four hour period—over which you have real control. It is only that part of your environment that impinges on you today that will affect your future. Tomorrow may never come, but if it does, it will be the result of what you have done or not done today.

The lesson is simple but also profound. Your learning of it will determine whether or not, as the years go by, you simply change or make progress.

EDWIN J. BROWNE
Administrative Assistant

The class of 1964 bears the distinction of graduating from Christopher Columbus High School during its twenty-fifth anniversary year. The character and traditions of the school have been shaped not only by the leadership and direction of its three principals and its faculty, but also by all the students who have ever attended it. As you have left your mark on Columbus, the school in turn has had its influence on you. Your future achievements will be based on the foundation which has been laid during your high school days.

You will soon be testing the strength of your own abilities, whether in college or in the world of work. You will meet challenges that will force you to examine and confirm your own philosophy of life. You will be called upon to assume new responsibilities of adult life. It is our hope that you will bring to the solution of the great problems facing the world today a reasoning mind and an understanding heart.

Our best wishes go with you.

JOHN F. KENNEDY – 1917-1963

"Let the word go forth from this time and place, to friend and foe alike, that the torch has been passed to a new generation of Americans—born in this century, tempered by war, disciplined by a hard and bitter peace, proud of an ancient heritage—and unwilling to witness or permit the slow undoing of those human rights to which this nation has always been committed, and to which we are committed today at home and around the world."

PRESIDENT KENNEDY'S INAUGURAL ADDRESS

Thus spoke John F. Kennedy on that brisk January day in 1961. We graduates were sophomores then, and the thought of a new and younger president made our eyes brighten. For as he stood there on that January morning, his long hair being tossed about by the brisk wind, we felt that a part of him was in all of us. His wife Jacqueline, his daughter Caroline, and his new son, affectionately called John-John, were to live in the hearts of all Americans. His quick smile, and rocking chair were symbols of this new generation. His crises were our crises: the nation mourned the death of his two-day old son; we held our breath as he uttered those now famous words about the Cuban crisis; and we mourned the loss of our beloved leader on November 22, 1963.

For four long days we sat in disbelief as we watched our fallen leader's coffin ride through the silent streets of Washington. His valiant effort to change the course of these turbulent times had led to his death. We cannot let his memory be forgotten. While all men die in this strange world of ours, we must keep the torch of John F. Kennedy forever burning in our hearts.

Let Walt Whitman's moving words speak for us too:

Coffiin that passes through lanes and streets,
Through day and night with the great cloud darkening the land . . .
With dirges through the night, with the thousand voices rising strong and solemn,
With all the mournful voices of the dirges pour'd around the coffin,
The dim-lit churches and the shuddering organs—where amid these you journey,
With the tolling tolling bells perpetual clang,
Here coffin that slowly passes,
I give you my sprig of lilac.

THE EARLY YEARS

In February 1939, Christopher Columbus High School opened its doors to its first faculty and its first student body, both of whom were drawn mainly from James Monroe and Evander Childs High Schools. At that time, the New York Institute for the Blind was our only neighbor. North and west of the school was farm land. Teachers often stopped at a farmer's stand at the corner of Bronxwood and Astor Avenues to buy fresh vegetables on the way home.

In 1939 there were no deans, no time allowances for any teacher for any extra activities such as Arista, publications, G.O. Advisor, etc. There were three full-time guidance counselors to handle personal problems of pupils in need of help. All teachers had 5 classes and a building assignment. In addition, many spent hours in extra-curricular activities. The faculty was young, enthusiastic and ambitious. It had to be! Friendships were formed during the first few hard years that have grown stronger as the number of original faculty members has grown smaller.

From the memories of those early years, the foliowing come to mind:

The World's Fair—1939 and 1940

Pearl Harbor

The graduation of January 1943 in Loew's "American" at Parkchester—the first "all Columbus" class. The diplomas presented "in absentia" to those who had left in their last term for the armed services.

The war years—overseas packages, V-mail letters (the honor roll in the front lobby is a reminder of all those who served from CCHS), carnivals, cake sales to raise money for various activities, sugar rationing, air-raid drills—"D" Day.

President Roosevelt's death

The "ice storm" when many of the men teachers had to be treated for frozen ears

The tennis courts flooded in the winter for ice-skating

The Regents week when Columbus students and teachers reported to Evander for Regents exams (to conserve fuel). Only the program committee met in Columbus' Library, which was the only heated part of the school. Wearing wool socks, boots and heavy sweaters, teachers and students made out programs under the direction of the first administrative assistant, Mr. Andre Fontaine.

The between-term-holiday, also for fuel conservation, but made up for by a shortened Easter vacation.

The first Christmas assembly!

The early years when many CCHS families still felt the effects of the depression. At Christmas—the cartons of canned goods filling the front lobby, contributed by official classes for our own needy pupils.

Columbus Day parades, faculty shows, dramatic and musical shows.

The departure of many of the original staff for higher posts—High School and Junior High School principals, chairmen, etc.

Our own Mr. John McGiver in the "Loves of Lionel."

The untimely deaths of many of our young faculty members.

The former students who are now members of the faculty.

The unbelief when a present student tells you that you were his father's Math teacher, or when the distinguished looking graying visitor asks if you remember when he sat in your class in Room 448 back in 1941?

Dr. John M. Loughran, the first principal, in whose mind Columbus was conceived, whose hand guided us through the early years, and from whose vision and inspiration came the concept of the importance of the individual student, which has always been an outstanding characteristic of Columbus.

Those were the years that were!

NELSON A. ROCKEFELLER
GOVERNOR

March 16, 1964

It is a pleasure to send cordial greetings to all members of the 1964 graduating class of the Christopher Columbus High School.

You are to be congratulated upon the success with which you have taken advantage of the education made available to you at that excellent school. What you have learned should be of abiding help to you for the future.

My best wishes to all of you in the years to come.

Sincerely,

Nelson A. Rockefeller

CITY OF NEW YORK
OFFICE OF THE MAYOR
NEW YORK 7, N.Y.

It is my pleasure to extend greetings to this year's graduating class of Christopher Columbus High School.

I am delighted that so many of this year's class will be continuing their education in institutions of higher learning.

Graduation from high school signals an approach to full adulthood -- and with it, the full responsibilities of citizenship. It is my hope that all of you will actively participate in the affairs of your community.

Our founding fathers very wisely insisted upon universal free education for the young people of America so that when the time came, they would take their place in our free society...equipped with the tools to make the decisions upon which a free society is based.

All good wishes,

Sincerely,

Robert F. Wagner

BROTHERHOOD: THE GOLDEN WORD

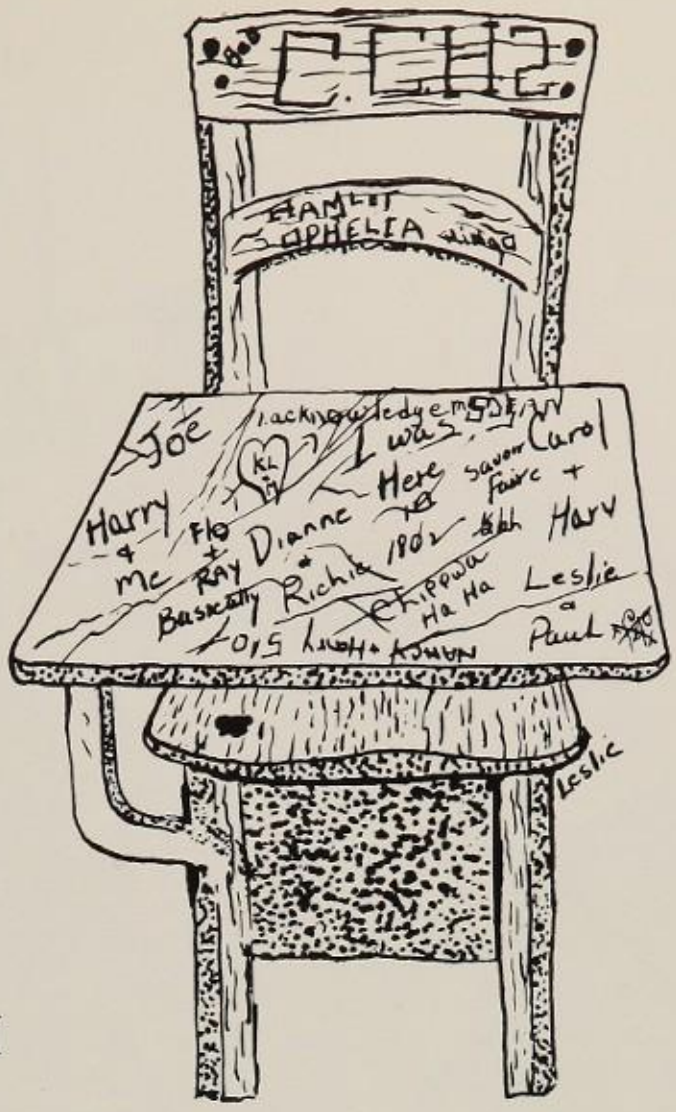
"So God created man in His image, in the image of God, He created him." With these words the Brotherhood Assembly was opened. Every year during Brotherhood Week, our school dedicates an assembly to further the understanding of brotherhood, and to demonstrate its necessity for world peace.

The modern dance class presented, through an interpretative dance, the beginning of corruption among the various groups. The end of the illustrative battle left the dancers with their hands reached out to one another: symbolizing the need for man to work with man for a common goal. We conceive that there are no victors in war; that it is man's duty to prevent such an occurrence, and to provide a better world for his young.

The choral group chanted a hymn, the theme of which was the equality of Man, and stated that "they who divide black from white, Protestant from Catholic from Jew, are the sick in mind." This year "Brotherhood" strikes us deeper than before; this year, we saw a man fight for this cause; we saw his death, and with it the beginning of a bigger and stronger movement of equal rights for all mankind.

The assembly ended with the folk singing group and the entire class audience singing together. A viewer sensed the compassion in the voices of these students. One could be proud to say this is my community, my ideal of the future American adult. Tomorrow is our future, but today determines all hatred and prejudice. However, as Mr. Kolevzon reminded us, let us not consider it just a week, but an everyday practice for tomorrow and our future lives. Let us wipe out "the sick in mind" and restore the words of the Holy Scriptures: "And God said, Let us make man in our image, after our Likeness."

DIANE PAPPAS



TO THE CLASSROOM

The classroom is a perpetual Monday, a slow clock on Friday. You run your hand under the desk to find a long forgotten piece of gum. Your pen makes a hole on the desk where someone has carved his name. And there is a crack on the ceiling running between the lights, and a hole under your desk.

For four years it is your home. So many faces—each a separate thought, each a different life. Someone to laugh at, someone to love. A community of neighbors meeting for the first time, finding out that they have nothing in common, or that they share the world. You watch your fellow students grow—and without seeing yourself, you know that you are growing also. No matter how many windows may be open, or how cold the day is, the classroom is always warm with the smile of forty others just like you.

Like a young tree you grow under the direction of experienced gardeners—at first small and frail, but soon able to withstand the strongest wind. Each new lesson becomes a unique morsel of food, to be used and absorbed, from which you decide what kind of "tree" you shall become.

Utter futility, sprinkled with inspiration, and the seed of opinion has its growth, and philosophy, its renaissance. The courtship of maturity and responsibility behind, to marry on graduation day.

Through constant prodding and unwavering exposure, the outside world, once so foreign to you, becomes your friend, and you change from what's happening to so and so, to what's happening to the universe.

Forty class hours of one subject to decide the fate of the world. How young we are, and yet—how old!

Suddenly you realize that you are never standing still, that a thousand hands rested on your desk prior to yours, and that there will be a thousand after you're gone. The crack on the ceiling, that hole in the floor that housed your memories will swell with the memories of others. But it will always be yours—part of you is left there.

Someday we shall look back and remember our four years here, and what seemed long will become a speck in the eternity of our lives, a sharp point of memory on the smooth classroom wall.

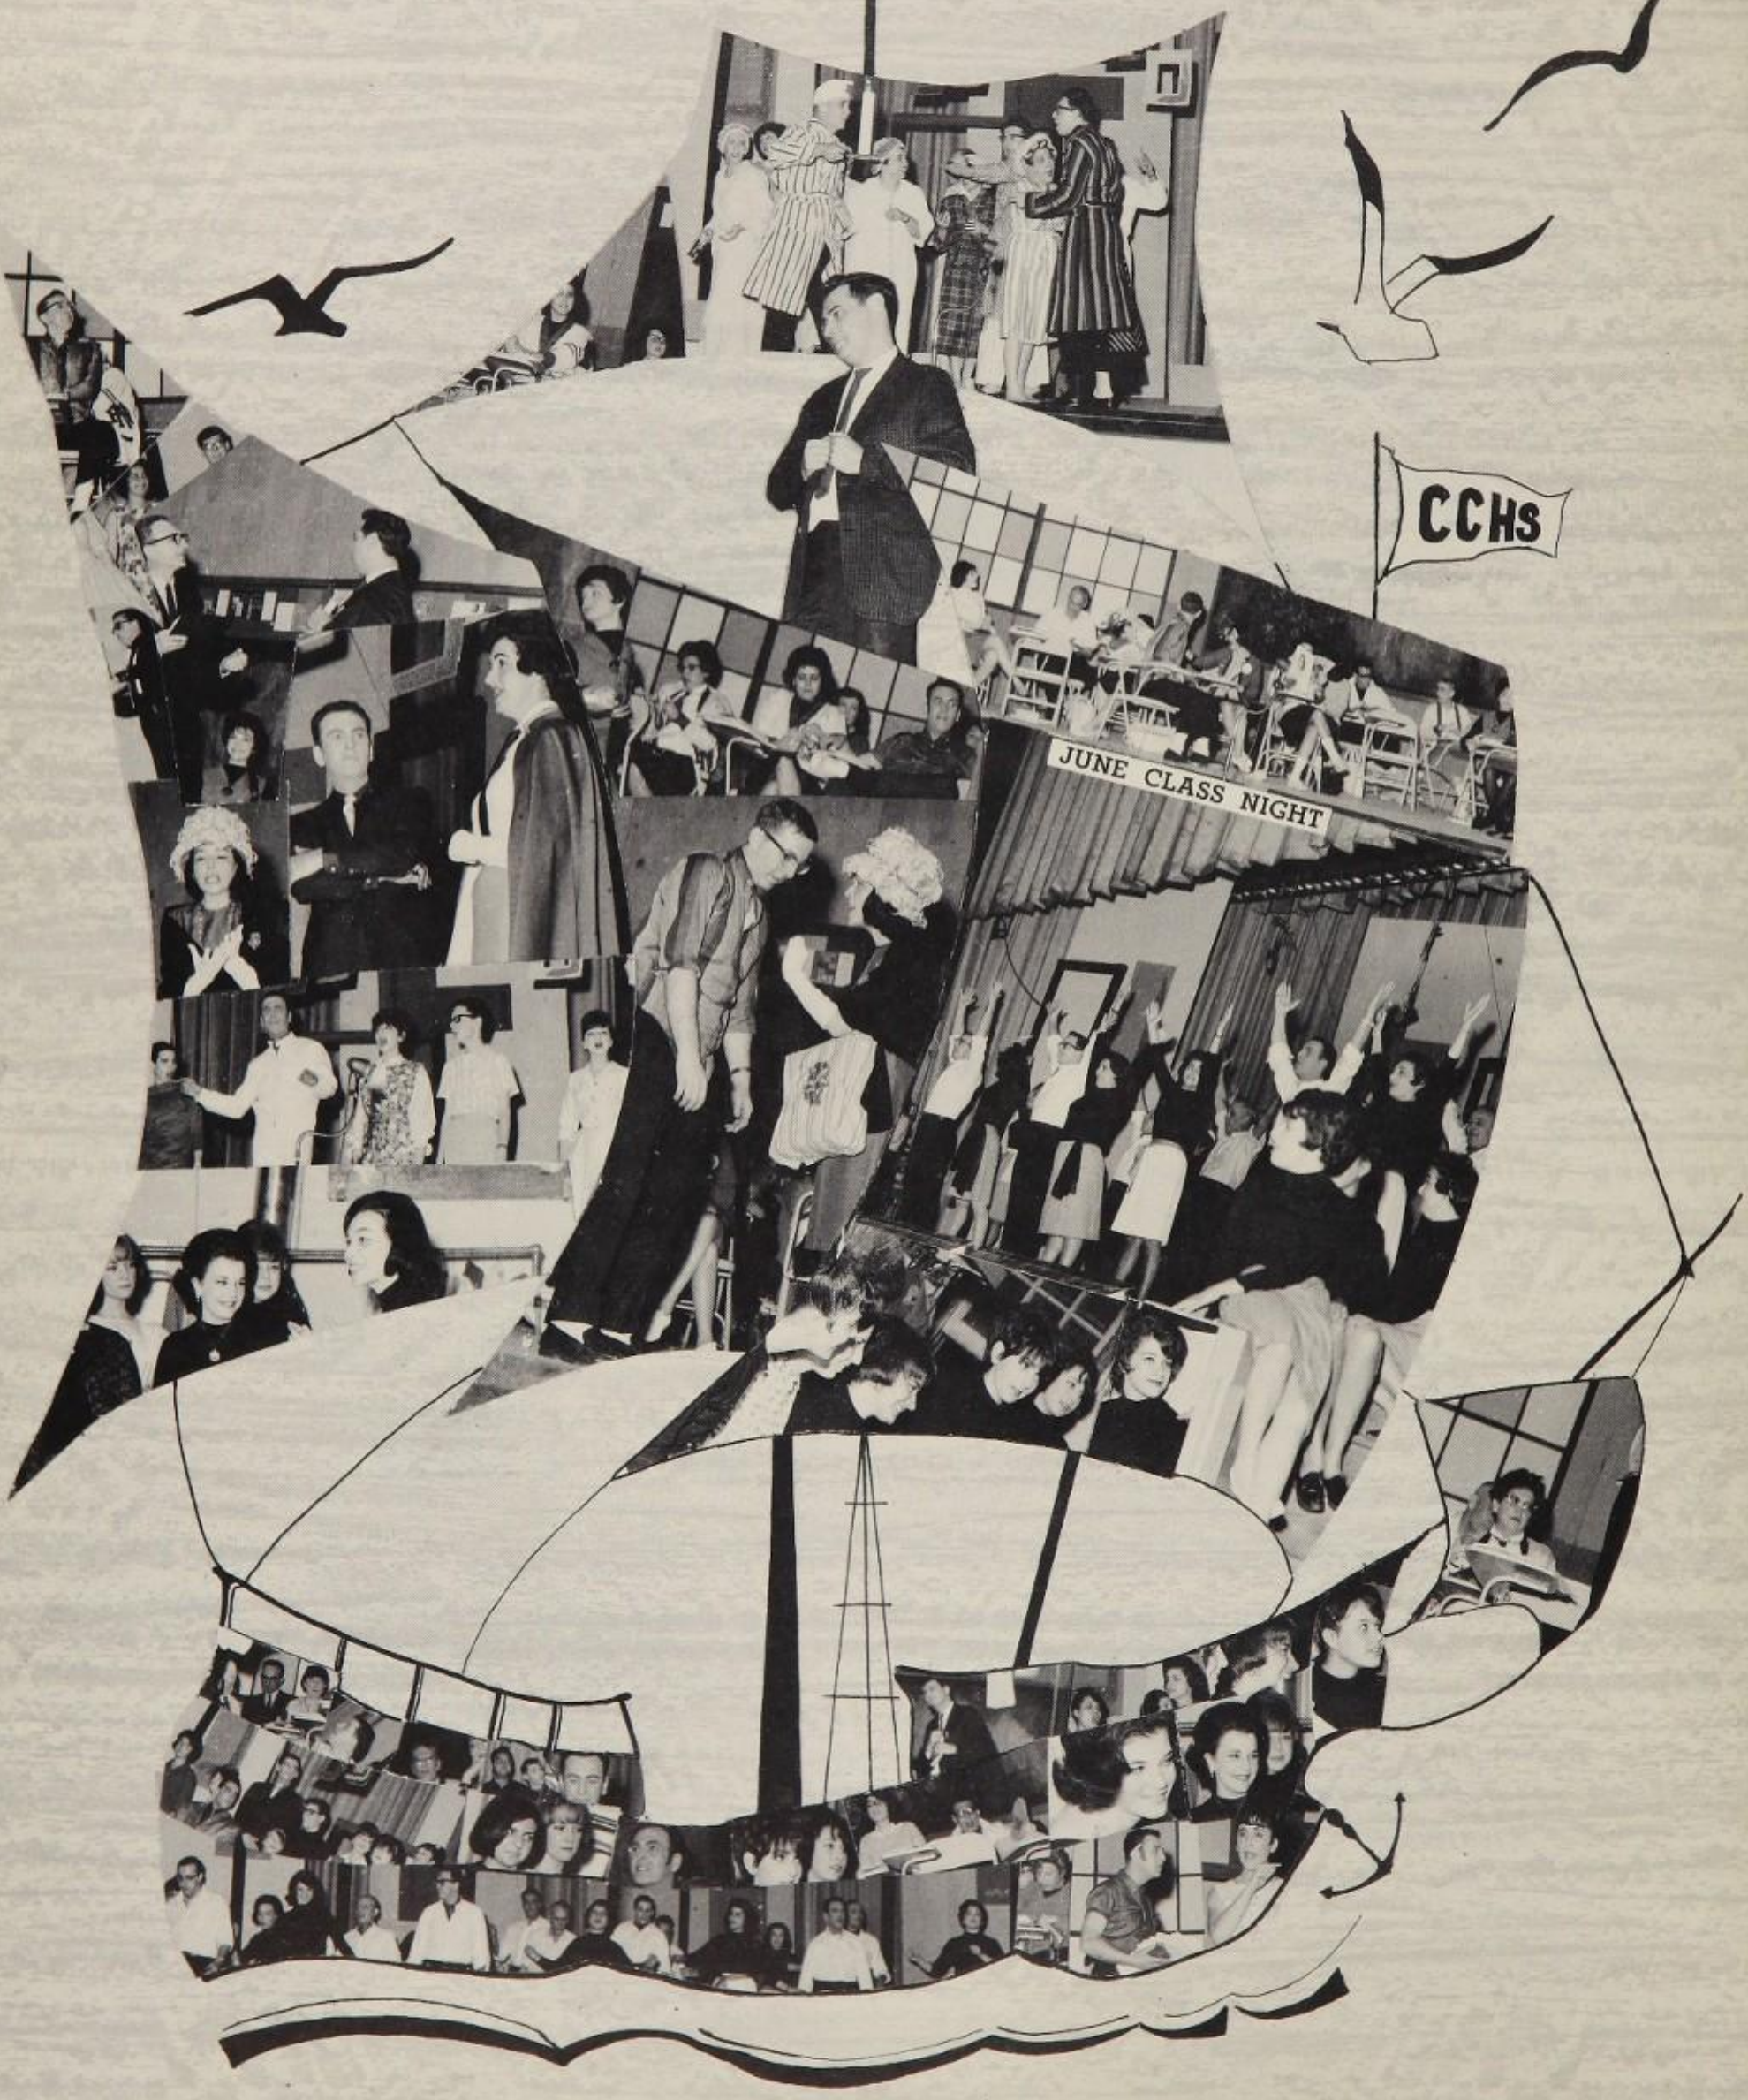
JUNE CLASS NIGHT



SENIOR CLASS NIGHT

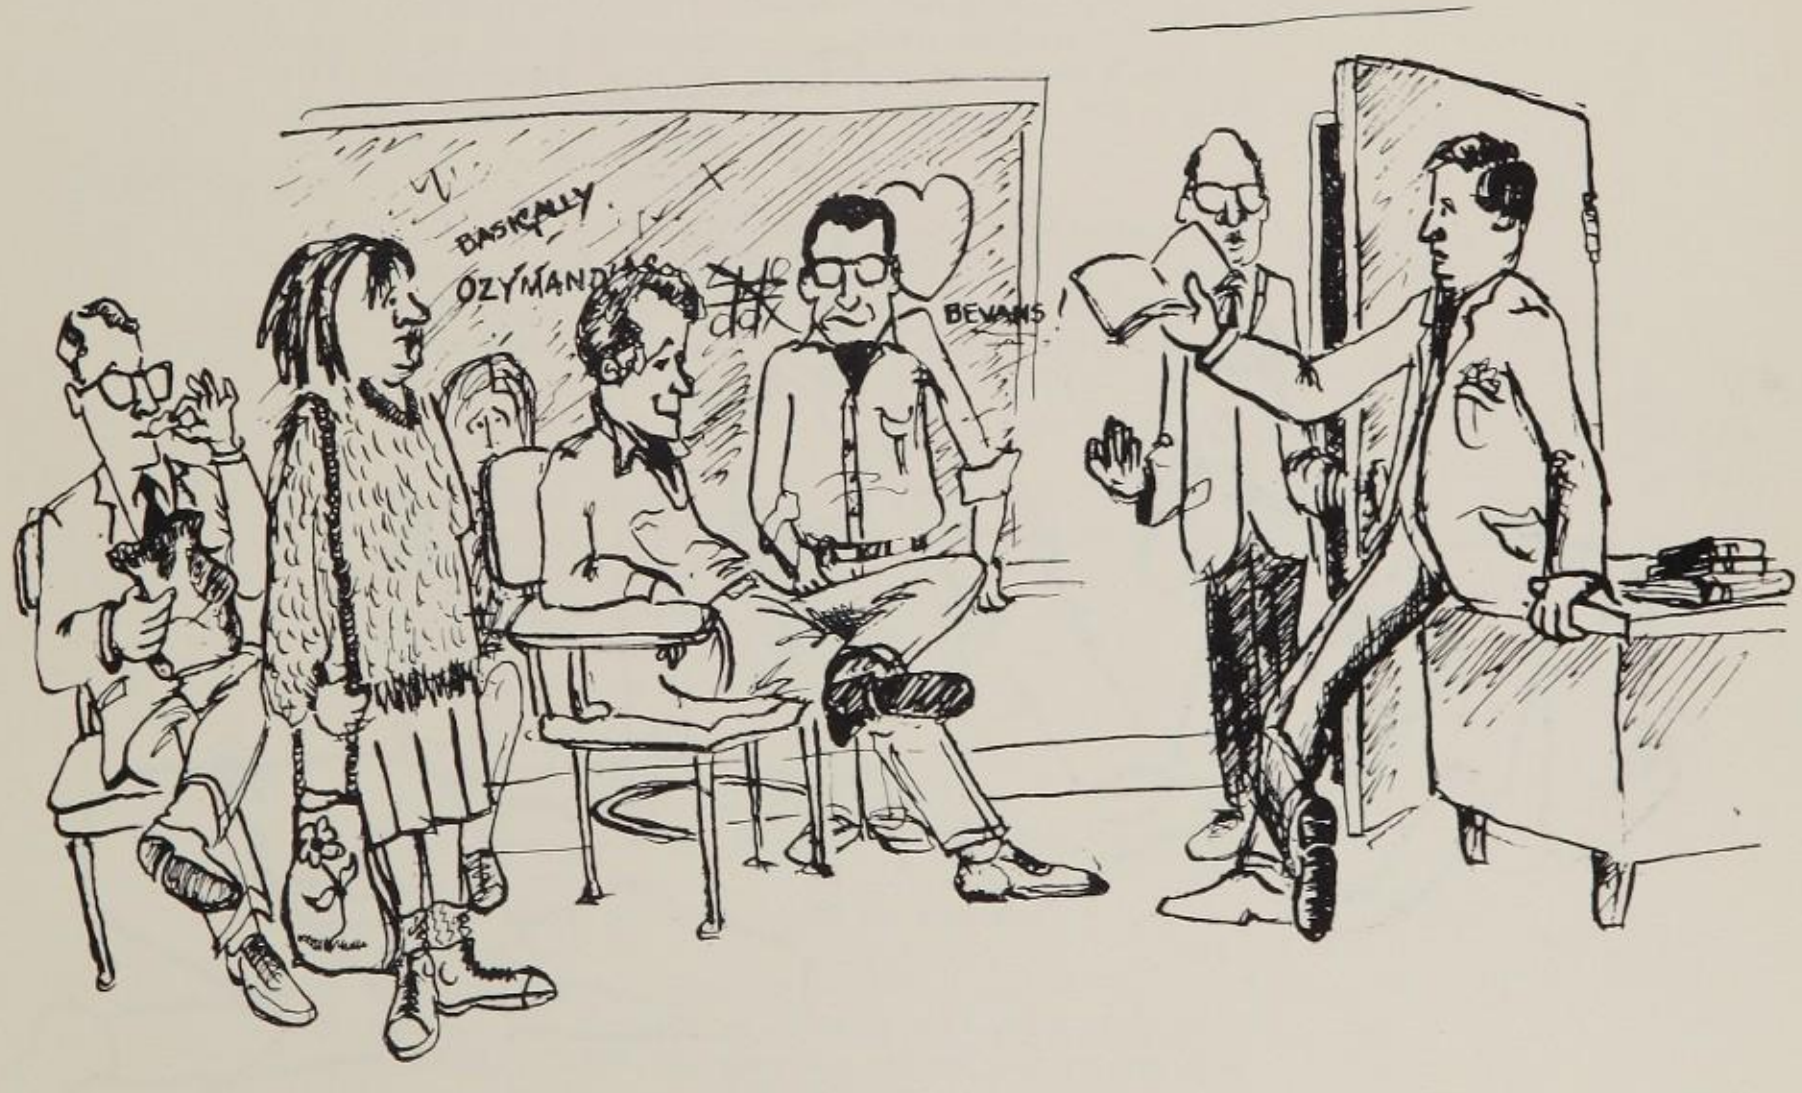
For three years we looked forward to Senior Class Night, and when on April 17 and 18 it finally arrived, we were certainly not disappointed. The Twenty-Fifth Anniversary Student-Faculty Show couldn't have been a greater success.

Miss Beatrice Imperato directed the scenes and songs from past Class Night Shows. Hits were taken from "Guys and Dolls," "Bells Are Ringing," and "Bye Bye Birdie." Long will live the performances of Mr. Will Klein as Nathan Detroit, Miss Imperato as Adelaide, and Mr. Matt DiLisio as Conrad Birdie. No one will ever forget Sandy Shaller's presentation of his "Simple Little System." We shall always remember our teachers in their pajamas, nightgowns, and rollers singing "Why Can't They Be Like We Were, Perfect in Every Way!"

Although it seemed that the first half of the show couldn't be topped, it was! "Ozymandias" rocked the audience with hysterical laughter. Our mentors presented us with a rollicking take-off of the perils of teaching English at our beloved Alma Mater. Even our principal, Mr. Kolevzon, joined in the fun as he chewed bubble gum in the back of the chaotic classroom.

For many days after, the seniors thrilled and delighted over and over again as they reminisced about the wonderful time they had at their Senior Class Night. Never shall it be forgotten!

ROBERTA DAGEN



ALMA MATER – TRUE BLUE(S)

We never thought that we would ever reach that enviable status; but amid the last snow flurries of winter and first flowers of spring we finally realized that we were seniors. As members of an elite and respected class (at least from our point of view), we represent walking miracles to the lowly freshmen, sophomores, and juniors. We are a group of lucky individuals who have actually survived the drudgery of four long, hard years of overwork and cafeteria food.

As we look backward—and most of us are rather skilled at this feat—we can see that Columbus has weathered the storm caused by the largest graduating class of "Sailors" in its entire history. When the majority of us first entered Columbus, we were determined to leave our marks for future entering classes (evidence of this can be found on most desks). Although we differed greatly in personalities and character, we banded together in the common cause of winning friends and influencing teachers to give us passing grades.

Now, we have become that distinct class of well known students called seniors. A senior is a person who stands out in the multitude. He is an expert at putting his acquired knowledge to practical use. For instance, every senior who has taken geometry at least once knows that the shortest distance between two classes is down an "up" stairway. And every member of the graduating class, whether he has taken chemistry or physics, can tell you that all teachers have different boiling points.

Experienced seniors are the envy of the underdogs. Many a freshman and sophomore has marveled at the ease at which a senior can get his program "fixed", talk a teacher into postponing a term paper, and look innocent while doing his homework behind a stack of books.

In memory of this graduating class it has been proposed that the following be etched on glass with hydrofluoric acid:

Hail Alma Mater—True Blue(s)!

SUSAN HOBBS

ONE ENCHANTED EVENING

This year's Prom was the highlight of an exciting twenty-fifth anniversary year. Held at Columbus, the Prom was extraordinary in its simplicity and style. Dining and dancing were tastefully intermingled to provide a most pleasant and romantic evening. A great deal of the Prom's success can be credited to the excellent planning of the Prom Committee, chaired by Diana Reilly, and supervised by Mr. R. Cohen. A special committee also enhanced the "magic" of the evening by creating dazzling decorations for this event. Truly, this Prom will be remembered as long as beautiful memories continue to exist.

DOING TIME AS A COLUMBUS SENIOR

FEBRUARY

3 Well, we're finally seniors.
4 Classes organized—standing room only.
6 Program Committee disappears.
7 Boy am I tired! From what? How would you like to be signed out of twelve classes?
13 Shortage of late slips in cafeteria: Beatles at Carnegie Hall.
14 Seniors take pictures for annual mug book.
17 Regents Scholarships—What's wrong with them? I can't use thirty-seven dollars in Travelers Cheques.
18 Senior Dues—What for?

MARCH

7 Twelfth Year Math is insoluble; indigestion rate among seniors increases.
13 Arista assembly—school masses picket in protest.
16 Seniors called on to dig own graves—It's Report Card time.
25 Physics teacher borrows eight-inch red pencil—returns it two inches long.

APRIL

3 Columbus to have own swimming pool. With excess water from water fountains, Ferdinand De Lesseps will try to build one in Columbus yard.
7 G. O. caught pitching pennies from bus-pass sale.
11 Prize offered for the best essay on "What Physics did for me."
12 One can't say much for the rest of the month.

May

1 We're almost there; or are we?
5 Ignorance, they say, is bliss, but not when taking a test like this.
8 Report Cards—the BIG equalizer.
12 College results—we can let our nails grow again.
23 Prom night—went to the movies instead—sad show.
30 Memorial Day—it came out on a Saturday.

JUNE

2 It's the last hurdle—now don't trip!
4 Gave a thought to the Regents. What Regents? Oh, you mean that oversized quiz!
7 Took a hike to get in shape for the Regents.
18 Returned!
19–22 Regents week . . . appalling!
24 Are you sure they are not lowering the passing grade to 48?
26 GRADUATION—the great day is here, and are we glad.
Now, only four more years of worry.

CHERYL ROSENBERG

BLUE LETTER DAY

The day has finally arrived! No, not graduation but Blue Letter Day: the sole day dedicated to the liberty of those oppressed students known as seniors. One could say this was a day of days! Decorated hats adorned the heads of many a high hatted senior. The proud heads that walked away with the prize winning hats belonged to Janet Pullum and Steve Kuntz.

Yes, this was just a start! If you ever dreamed of a character stepping off the pages of a book, today your dream became reality. Rhett Butler, better known as Angelo Donvicino, won the most original boy costume award. Santa Claus and his or her only the reindeers know for sure toybag were the most original girl costume portrayed by jolly Dianne Milstein and dolly Carol Schafer. Our classmates were so creative that another prize for originality was given to the Wizard of Oz group, who in reality are: June Criscuolo, Theresa Crisco, Linda Catelli and Sarina Busa. The funniest and most unbelievable costume was worn by Frances Torre imitating an old hillbilly. Also winning for the funniest costumes were The Three Little Pigs and the Big Bad Wolf, disguised as Shirley Appel, Roberta Lieberman, Karen Tischelman and Iris Sheinman respectively. To beautify the halls of Columbus, Stephanie Conte was dressed as a lovely Indian girl, and took first place for the prettiest costume.

We congratulate the entertainment committee, chaired by Richard Cohen, Mr. Bass, Mr. Dilisio, and Mr. Cohen, Faculty Supervisors, Paul Spector, Boy Leader, Diana Reilly, Girl Leader, and the stage crew, for a fine job, all who deserve as much credit as those on stage. We give thanks to our masters of ceremony, Morris Speiser and Warren Young. These two young gentlemen displayed extreme confidence on stage and shared their comical talent with the audience.

The overall show displayed Columbusites with their best feet forward—what talented feet! Even Mr. Kolevzon enjoyed the tunes of the rock 'n' roll beat.

Morris Speiser and Karen Lehrburger cha-cha-cha'd their way to fame. We must not forget the Charleston, which was well done by Andrea Forrest and Jon Geraghty. A dance at the gym with Robert Sirico and his band wound up the activities of the day.

For the first time in our four years, we really enjoyed ourselves; of course, we're getting out!

UNICORNS

COLUMBUS HIT PARADE

The teachers of Columbus are not as square as you think. Maybe cubey, but not square! They complain about our kind of music, but if you catch them at the right moment, they can be heard singing it.

Mr. Browne enjoys singing "Have you Heard" over the P.A. system.

Mr. Oglio has a couple of favorites—"Trouble Is My Middle Name" and "I Wish I Could Believe You."

Mr. LaMagna hums the tune of "Outer Limits" when asked what the boys think of his office.

Typing teachers can be heard singing "Fingertips Part 1."

The cooks in the cafeteria get a kick out of singing "Fools Rush In" as the freshmen come in to get their first taste of the food.

The students who have just eaten sing, "You Do Something To me."

Mr. Rosario likes to whistle while giving tests. May I suggest "Spanish Twist" for the next term?

The favorite of the cooking class? What else but "Hot Pastrami" and "Mashed Potatoes."

When Miss Davis sees a boy who has been charged with cutting, she sings "He's a Rebel!"

The students have a few themselves:

To their Home Room pals—"Breaking up is Hard To Do."

To the Deans—"Why Don't You Believe me?" and "That's it, I Quit!"

One song Seniors won't sing voluntarily is "See You in September!"

O REGENTS! MY REGENTS!

(With apologies to Walt Whitman)

O Regents! my Regents! our fearful trip is done,
The books have weathered every class, the college sought is won,
Commencement's near, the beeps I hear, the seniors all exulting,
While follow eyes the English grades; the students grim but hoping:

But O heart! heart! heart!
O the marking drops of red,
Where on the desk my Regents lies,
Failing, cold, and dead.

O Regents! my Regents! rise up to hear the bell,
Rise up—on you my future hangs—for you my heart doth swell
For you four years of English Lit—for you time lost a-learning,
For you I call, my mind a blank, the lunch within me churning;

Here Regents! dear savior!
What is there to be said?
It is some dream that on the desk,
You've failed me cold and dead.

My Regents does not answer, his mark is in and true,
My savior does not feel my hands, my future he just blew,
The paper's back at Albany, its voyage closed and done,
From fearful talk yours truly walks, eight terms have I plus one:

Exult, O Board, and Croak, O beeps!
But I with mournful tread,
Walk the halls where Regents lurks,
To flunk me cold and dead.

BOWLING TEAM

COLUMBUS 1989

With the sound of the telescreen still blaring in my ears, I entered my new office for the first time. It seems strange that a graduate of Columbus on its twenty-fifth anniversary, should finally return as an Administrative Assistant on its fiftieth.

My first surprise came when I visited the Program Office; I hardly recognized the place. I learned that shortly after my departure, a computer was installed that both made mistakes and corrected them. A novel part of the office is a statue of that brave soul who founded manual programming.

As a favor to both the teachers and the students, this year will see the last of the short announcements which plagued them since 'way back. My predecessor reasoned that things should be done the good old way, but the regular morning announcements had begun to take thirty minutes.

I found the curriculum in the school greatly enlarged in scope. There are live broadcasts from Africa for students interested in medicine; art classes are deciphering hieroglyphics from the canals on Mars; the Science Department is giving a series of lectures on space exploration, with first hand information from the Moon, and the Ancient History class is being bored by films of the primitive space flight of John Glenn.

When I was a senior at Columbus, class of '64, I was a staff editor on the School Year Book. Just for fun I decided to visit the Anchor Office, expecting several modern changes. I discovered that the Anchor still shares this esoteric habitation with the Senior Advisor, and the interior is still decorated with coatracks and barbells.

The Senior Advisor told me of still another familiar-sounding problem. It seems the prom committee is faced with a serious situation—where to hold the prom, Rome or Madrid? However, the odds are that the prom will be held you know where . . .

I then returned to my office to resume my day's work, thinking back to the memories of my graduation in 1964, realizing how different the one of 1989 would be.

STANLEY WEISEL
Administrative Assistant, 1989

CAN YOU IMAGINE??

Mr. Kolevzon . . . . . Kidnapped on one of his cafeteria patrols?
Mr. Browne . . . . . Putting out an LP entitled "My Funny Announcements?"
Mr. Cohen . . . . . The only one at the Prom?
Dr. Isaacs . . . . . As head of the C.I.A.?
Mrs. Brennan . . . . . Without a little smile?
Mrs. Chad . . . . . At a loss for words at an Arista meeting?
Mr. Abramson . . . . . Chewing gum in class & blowing bubbles during view graph time?

FROM THE ENGLISH REGENTS

Essay: What novel that you read this year did you like least?

To what flaw, defect, or immaturity in your character do you attribute this?

HEARD IN THE ADMIRAL OFFICE

All the news that fits, we print!

I WILL REMEMBER

The Regents: that no one wanted to take, that no one wanted to give, that no one wanted to mark,—but that we got anyway.

Teachers who schedule exams for "sometime next week."

25th ANNIVERSARY STUDENT TALENT SHOW

The Senior Talent Show, held May 5, 1964, in the Auditorium, under the direction of Mr. Paul Abramson, and the music provided by two bands, was thoroughly enjoyed by all in attendance.

The show consisted mainly of songs by both soloists and groups performing folk music and rock-and-roll. In addition, there were two comedy skits, a comedian, a modern dance group, doing a number entitled "Columbus Showcase," and an acrobatics exhibition under the direction of Mr. Frank Lanzano.

The show, originally scheduled to be a Student-Faculty Program, was changed because of Faculty participation in Senior Class Night. Hard work by all involved, provided for a very successful evening.

COLUMBUS GOES BROADWAY

How To Succeed	Cheat!
This Was Burlesque	The doors are open to the girls' locker room
Never Too Late	To graduate in August
110 In The Shade	And we're taking a Regents
What Makes Sammy Run?	A teacher's raid on the boys' bathroom
A Funny Thing Happened	I forgot my program card
Some Like It Hot	The cafeteria gravy
A Ticklish Affair	Trapped in the Dean's Office
Fables of Love	Eavesdropping on the girls' hygiene class
Move Over Darling	So I can see your test paper
8½	But Mr. Rogers, I wrote the correct heading
Charade	Pretending you have your homework
Who's Minding The Store	Mr. Freedman
Breakfast At Tiffanys	Third period lunch
Exodus	Moose call at 3 o'clock
Roaring 20's	Final marks
Gone With The Wind	Hey, stop that gyp sheet!

ALTON WOODMAN

HOW WOULD YOU LIKE . . .

Coca-Cola in the water fountains?
Ashtrays in the study halls?
The Math Department with a view graph that projected B.B. pictures?
The cafeteria improved to such a point that students eat off plates?
The Board of Education to close school on the day it snows?
Four more years at COLUMBUS?

CELIA LIEBERMAN

LAST WILL AND TESTAMENT

We, the class of 1964, having duly passed out of Christopher Columbus, with the consent of, the praise of, and to the relief of the Board of Education of the City of New York, do hereby bequeath our last belongings to the various undernamed benefactors.

Mr. Kolevzon	A complete set of the '64 Regents with the hope that he may enjoy them as we did.
Mr. Browne	A couple of good songs for his morning broadcasts.
Miss Davidson	A policeman to direct the traffic in her office.
Mrs. Hewitt	More Guidance Counselors.
Mrs. Davis	The complete works of Walter Lippman.
Mr. Eisman	A year's supply of coffee.
Mr. Klein	A couple of working service aides—relatively speaking.
Mr. Kavee	An IBM programming machine.
Mr. Cohen	57 thousand weekly magazine articles, 800 25 page term reports, and seven sets of essay tests, all to be marked and returned tomorrow!
Dr. Isaacs	The FACTS about Pearl Harbor.
Miss Olitsky	Seniors who know what college they want to go to.
The Anchor Office	Another typewriter.
Mr. Koffler	A year's supply of that greasy kid stuff
Mrs. Silver	A new set of nerves
Mr. Haft	Another Championship Chess and Checkers Club and Team
Mrs. Chezar	A room with working typewriters
Mrs. Feins	A 14 karat gold whistle
Miss DiLello	A wardrobe of gymsuits
Mr. Rosario	A stainless steel garbage pail
Mr. DiLisio	A golden list of students who answer to "Who took my pass?"
Miss Josephs	A pair of contact lenses that don't fall out
Mr. Green	All our forged absence notes
Mr. Berman	A chemistry set for eight year olds
Mrs. Rosenberg	A less lovable official class
Mr. Guarnera	An emergency phone number
Mrs. Weisblatt	A record album: "If I Had a Hammer—I'd Use It!"
Miss Berchielli	A key to room 306
Mr. Berkowitz	A homeroom with no typewriters on the desks
Mr. Woolfson	A year's supply of hugs and kisses
Mr. Robinson	A legible absence note on time
Mr. Birnbaum	A Beatle Wig
Mr. Abramson	A personalized window pole
Mrs. Bottari	A doll that asks "Will you usher on Friday night?"
Mr. Bush	A lifetime supply of tuna-fish sandwiches
Mr. Hershey	A book entitled "How I Learned to Stop Worrying and Love My Official Class"
Miss Reid	A card reading "Up, up,—the pledge!"
Mrs. Ehrlich	A pocketbook big enough!
Miss Boyajian	A pair of stilts
Mrs. Weinstein	Intellectually curious students
Mr. Bass	A crossword puzzle

THE SENIOR BIOGRAPHY

Shortly after the beginning of the term, the Literary Staff found itself the recipients of a ten-inch high stack of approximately one thousand senior biographies; we began to edit, alphabetize, type, and check them against the graduating list almost immediately, and twenty minutes before they were to go to the printer, the last one was stuck into place.

Next to the picture of each graduate, the students name and address, course, college, if any, and career are listed. In the next few lines, we list Columbus awards and honors, and finally, outside school activities.

For a few students, there is nothing but name, address, and diploma listed. This may be because the questionnaire was received late, or was lost, or because the graduate was too shy to submit one.

Because of the limited amount of room, some of your activities may have been curtailed. Because we don't always know what you do at private club meetings, we omitted them; we likewise omitted such interests as drag racing, and girls. Under vocation we did not include: unknown, mother, get married, or make money.

It is the hope of the Literary Staff that you are pleased with your biography. We did our best.

IN MEMORIAM

To everything there is a season, and a time to every purpose under the heaven;

A time to be born, and a time to die . . .

Ecclesiastes 3:1-3

This past year, a "time to die" came much too soon for a senior in Christopher Columbus High School. Francine Beck died of leukemia at the age of 16—a mere segment of a life that would have been long and challenging. A dread disease has taken from the world a young girl whose life was just beginning. In an expression of sympathy, Columbus has organized a Francine Beck Memorial Fund. We can only hope that her last few years in Columbus were happy.

Best Wishes
and Lots of Luck
in the future

Love Always,
Connie

To Cousin Cheryl -
Maybe always stay
cousins!
Love,
Cousin Karen

To Cheryl,
The best of luck
to you and your future
husband. (I hope.)
Love
Barbara
